Addreſs—Of Thanks for His Majeſty's Speech from the Throne: To aſſure His Majeſty, That the Houſe have witneſſed with pride and ſatisfaction the Skill and Intrepidity of His Majeſty's Navy, the formidable State of the Army and Militia, the unabated Zeal of a numerous Volunteer Force, and the general Ardour of all Claſſes of His Majeſty's Subjects; and though the Preparations for Invaſion have been continued with inceſſant Activity, are firmly perſuaded they will be found ſufficient to deter the Enemy from attempting to carry their repeated Menaces into Effect: That they return His Majeſty their humble Thanks for having been graciouſly pleaſed to direct that a Copy of the Manifeſto which he has cauſed to be prepared in conſequence of the Rupture with Spain, ſhould be laid before them, together with ſuch Papers as are neceſſary to explain the Diſcuſſions which have taken place between His Majeſty and that Court; that on the Continent, the general Conduct of the French Government has been marked by the utmoſt Violence and Outrage; that notwithſtanding theſe Tranſactions, His Majeſty has recently received a Communication from the French Government, containing Profeſſions of a pacific Diſpoſition, and that deeply ſenſible of His Majeſty's paternal regard and ſolicitude for the Welfare of His People, expreſſed in His earneſt deſire to embrace the firſt Opportunity of reſtoring the Bleſſings of Peace, conſiſtent with the Intereſts of His Majeſty's Dominions, they cordially agree with His Majeſty, that thoſe Objects are cloſely connected with the general Security of Europe, and acknowledge the wiſdom of His Majeſty's determination to decline entering into more particular Explanation till he has had time to communicate with thoſe Powers on the Continent, with whom His Majeſty is engaged in confidential Intercourſe: To aſſure His Majeſty, that much as they lament the neceſſity of impoſing additional Burthens on His Majeſty's Subjects, they are at the ſame time ſo ſenſible how much their future Happineſs and Safety depend upon the Vigour of their Exertions, that His Majeſty may rely upon their granting ſuch Supplies as the Exigency of the Public Service may require; that it muſt afford them great Satisfaction to obſerve, that the proofs of the internal Wealth and Reſources of the Country appear to keep pace with the Efforts and Sacrifices which the nature of the Conteſt requires; and that His Majeſty may firmly rely on their Zeal to maintain and improve thoſe Advantages, and to adopt ſuch Meaſures as may afford the beſt proſpect of bringing it to a ſafe and honourable Termination:—Addreſs reſolved on, and Committee appointed to prepare it; to withdraw immediately; and King's Speech referred; 15 JAN. Addreſs reported, and agreed to; to be preſented by the whole Houſe; 16. The King appoints to be attended at St. James's, 17. His Anſwer reported, 21.
